		on
	to this organisation, satisfies the present criter	in	fcr temporary promotion in the grade of Colonel.

performance of duty in the several months he has been assigned to this Agency has been consistently superior. In direct charge of planning and operation in one of the most vital geographic areas, has, in a very s ort space of time, organized and launched a program of considerable magnitude and of substantive importance. He has demonstrated outstanding leadership, high initiative and determination in the face of all obstacles. I have found him to be an officer of great promise.

3. I strongly recommend that particular attention be directed to the record and accomplishments of making the final selections for the promotion to temporary rank.
